CHAIRMAN'S CORNER JANUARY 2013

We the Tribal Council hope that each of you had a happy holiday season and got to spend time with your families and loved ones. We courageously go forward into a new year with hopes and dreams of continuing the successes our Tribe has made over the past couple of years.

You may ask why I say 'courageously go forward'. At times there are difficult issues facing the Council; we continue to address issues that sometimes do take courage because you wonder what Tribal Members will think of your actions but we do what we feel is best for our people. Sometimes the best solution to an issue is not the easiest or most well received.

The new year also brings the second inauguration of President Barack Obama. Myself and several of the Council Members have made plans to attend the inauguration. I thank you all for voting in the Presidential election; even if you did not vote for President Obama, your vote is an inalienable right that helps elect those who govern our nation.

Buford L. Rolin, Tribal Chairman
tlancaster@pci-nsn.gov

I have recently attended meetings for the National Indian Health Board (NIHB) and the Tribal Leaders Diabetes Committee. These are just two of the national boards that address Native American health issues. I am honored to serve as an officer on both of these prestigious boards.

I hope that each of you have a prosperous new year.

CARL "BUSTER" MCGHEE SR., THE QUIET MAN

Have you met Carl McGhee Sr.? If you have been to the annual celebration the last couple of years you have seen him on the stage being recognized as the oldest male Tribal Member in attendance. He says that he enjoys the annual celebration and looks forward to attending each year.

Carl "Buster" McGhee, Sr. is 95 years old; he was born February 9, 1917 and is the son of the late Littles and Ellen Colbert McGhee. He has four brothers Travis, Luther, Eubie, and Frank who are all deceased; and two sisters, Thelma McGhee Henson, and the late Girlie McGhee Henson.

Buster grew up in Huxford, AL.; he started his own family in Huxford before moving to Walnut Hill in 1942. "I went to school in Huxford" Buster said, "but I only went to the fourth grade. I didn't stop learning though; life has taught me a lot. I got a good job and I was able to take care of my family."

Buster is a veteran; he served in the Marines during World War II. After returning home from the war he went to work for St. Regis, the paper mill in Cantonment where he worked for over thirty years. When he was not working in the paper mill, Buster was fishing or farming. "I love to fish. When I was a boy I fished every fishing hole in and around Huxford." He still takes his tractor out and tills the fields and plants a garden every year.

When you ask his family and friends about Buster, they will all tell you the same thing; he is a quiet man and is well respected by everyone he knows. They tell of how he never says a curse word or loses his temper. "It's true" said Buster's son Gilbert McGhee "I do not remember ever seeing Daddy get mad or lose his temper and I have never heard him use a curse word."

This is a trait we all need to assimilate.

Some of his fellow co-workers from the paper mill used to tell his family of pranks or jokes they played on Buster. He and a group of guys would carpool to work, the ride to and from work was long and tiring. In the morning they would all be sleepy and in the afternoon they would all be tired from their shift. They learned different ways to entertain themselves to make the journey more tolerable; this 'entertainment' soon grew into jokes and pranks. When it wasn't his turn to drive Buster would sit in the back seat and go to sleep. One time his fellow carpoolers tricked him by stopping at a different location than the one they usually stopped at; waking when the car stopped and thinking he had arrived at his stop, he opened the door and got out of the car. Once he realized he was not at his stop, he laughed with his friends; he did not get angry or curse at them as some would have done.

Buster married Atre B Dees in 1935; they had eight children, Gilbert, Carl Jr., Robert, Glenn, Larry, Harold, Stephen (an infant who passed away at about 10 months old), and Sandra McGhee Chunn. Buster has 17 grandchildren, 13 great grandchildren, and 5 great-great grandchildren.

It was quite a pleasure to get to know the quiet man a little better.

2012-2013 Princesses Selected

It is always a difficult job for the judges to select our Tribal Princesses from among a group of beautiful, talented, and worthy contestants. This year was no different and we commend all contestants for being such great representatives of the Tribe.

The 2012-13 Senior Princess is Samantha Miller. Samantha is the daughter of Lisa Ardis of Atmore, AL. and Phillip Miller of Bogalusa, LA.

The 2012-13 Junior Princess is Madison McGhee. Madison is the daughter of Bryan and Kimberly McGhee, of Atmore, AL.

The 2012-13 Elementary Princess is Kinzie Rackard, the daughter of Jason and Mary Rackard of Atmore, AL.

These beautiful young ladies will serve as Tribal representatives throughout the year. They have already represented the Tribe at Pow Wow, and they have been featured in the Poarch and Atmore Christmas parades.

Congratulations Kinzie, Madison, and Samantha!

BUFORD ROLIN INDUCTED INTO ATMORE HALL OF FAME

Amid laughter and tears, four men were inducted into the Atmore Area Hall of Fame's seventh annual induction ceremony Friday night, November 9, 2012. They are William "Bill" Corman, Wilbur "Buster" Joyner, Buford Rolin and George Robinson "Robin" Swift.

As is the custom, the inductee or family member was introduced by a member of the Hall of Fame Committee. Escambia County High School classmate and Hall of Fame Committee member James Barnett introduced Buford Rolin. Referring to a 1958 Atmorala (the ECHS yearbook), James said Buford was on the student council, a very important position back in the '50s.

James said he called classmate Laura McGhee to see what she remembered about Rolin. She recalled that he taught Sunday school at St. Anna's and that he organized the church Christmas program every year.

It also came to mind that Rolin was an excellent dancer. In fact, James said, he was the John Travolta of his day. The young man who was known as a dancer in high school came back to Atmore to work for his people - the Poarch Band of Creek Indians. His work has spanned decades and the United States.

"I'm honored to have been chosen," Rolin said. "For many years, I lived in Pensacola after I got out of the military. But more than 20 years ago, Gay Drew and Eddie Tullis convinced me I should move back to Atmore. They had already planned for me to take over the health program at the tribe. For more than 24 years, I managed the health program. I'm happy to be back at home and being of service to my people and the community."

Rolin worked along side Eddie Tullis, who by the way is his first cousin, in getting federal recognition for the Poarch Band of Creek Indians.

"I'm pleased to accept this recognition. It's good to see we can bring our community together and work together," he said.

James Barnett added that in 1958, Mary Hodnette, a revered high school teacher at ECHS, told Rolin, "I hope you will come back."

Inductee Bio as presented to Committee- Buford L. Rolin is a member of the Poarch Band of Creek Indians. He has served as Secretary for the Tribe and has served as the Vice-Chairman from 1991-2006. As of June 12, 2006 he was elected Chairman of the Tribe and is now serving his second term as chairman.

In 1989, Rolin received a service award from the Indian Health Service for improving the Health of Indian People. In 1993, he was awarded the Director's Award for Excellence by the Indian Health Service. In 1996, he also received the Area Director's Special Commendation Award from the Indian Health Service.

Rolin has served on many national organizations including the National Congress of American Indians (NCAI), the Atmore Area Partnership for Youth Board of Directors, and the Florida Governor's Council on Indian Affairs. He has held various positions pertaining to the Northwest Florida Creek Indian Council, the National Committee on Indian Work, the Episcopal Church, the Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors, Creek Indians Arts Council, Creek Indian Heritage Memorial Association, and the United South & Eastern Tribes (USET) and currently as vice-chairman for the National Indian Health Board (NIHB). He also served on the State of Alabama Public Health Advisory Board.

Rolin was appointed in 1998 by Dr. Michael Trujillo, director, Indian Health Service, as Tribal Co-Chair National Steering Committee (NSC), for Reauthorization of the Indian Health Care Improvement Act (IHCIA). He was also appointed in 1999 Tribal Co-Chair to the Tribal Leaders Diabetes Committee by Dr. Michael Trujillo.

During 2000, Rolin was appointed to the White House Commission on Complimentary and Alternative Medicine Policy by President Bill Clinton.

He was appointed to NCAI Tribal Leaders Health Information Technology Task Force in 2001, by NCAI President Tex Hall, and was elected chairman of that committee.

Rolin was the co-chair for the Healing Our Spirit Worldwide Planning Committee. The last meeting was held in August 2006 in Edmonton Alberta, Canada.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF LARRY J. JACKSON

Native Dreamer

I am a dreamer, I live that way,
Never tomorrow only yesterday.
I can see the elders look them in the eye,
Strong willed people trying to survive.
All kind of weather surrounds their souls,
The young keep walking lucky to grow old.
The medicine man searching, searching for a sign
For wisdom and courage I can hear him cry.
We all are dreamers of the life we have lived,
Free and brave always here.
I can see the great names cut in rock,
Their image was large so was their heart.
I can see the people of today, brave in some way,
Their goals not so high and that's sad to say,
I am a dreamer I live that way,
Never tomorrow only yesterday.

Working Lands for Wildlife Announced in Alabama

*News Release from USDA/NRCS dated December 6, 2012
As submitted by David Elliott, NRCS Tribal Liaison*

USDA's Natural Resources Conservation Service (NRCS) State Conservationist Dr. William Puckett has announced a partnership opportunity for landowners to voluntarily restore and protect habitat for the gopher tortoise. This program targets at-risk wildlife species across the country.

The gopher tortoise is the species of concern for parts of six states. It is a ground burrowing turtle found in southern Alabama whose habitat is sandy, well-drained soils. Management practices that benefit the gopher tortoise also benefit quail, turkey, deer, and many other wildlife species. Gopher tortoise habitat management, in most situations, is compatible with and even enhances forest production.

"Landowners can receive financial assistance for a number of habitat management practices such as prescribed burning," said Puckett. Landowners with gopher tortoises on their property will rank highest for funding allocation.

Financial assistance is available for practices such as:

- Longleaf pine planting at any spacing between 10 x 12 feet (363 trees per acre) and 8 x 12 feet (454 trees per acre)
- Pre-commercial thinning to below 500 trees per acre
- Native warm season grass and forbs planting
- Mid-rotation release of pine timber by removing hardwood brush
- Release of young longleaf pine trees by removing hardwood competition
- Other supporting practices such as firebreaks, site preparation for longleaf planting, and invasive species control may also be eligible

Funding for this initiative is provided through the Wildlife Habitat Incentives Program (WHIP) administered by NRCS. Applications will be accepted on a continuous basis; however applications for 2013 funding must be received by the following batching date: January 25, 2013.

Poarch Band of Creek Indian Tribal members can contact David Elliott, NRCS Tribal Liaison at the NRCS Tribal Office, 5535 Poarch Road, Atmore, Alabama 36502 or call 1-251-368-0826 to find out more information about NRCS programs and to determine eligibility.

Individuals are not eligible for WHIP until they have completed the Farm Bill eligibility requirements. Contact your local NRCS or Farm Service Agency Office to begin this process. NRCS field offices are listed in the telephone directory under U.S. Department of Agriculture or on-line at <http://offices.sc.egov.usda.gov>.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) prohibits discrimination against its customers. If you believe you experienced discrimination when obtaining services from USDA, participating in a USDA program, or participating in a program that receives financial assistance from USDA, you may file a complaint with USDA. Information about how to file a discrimination complaint is available from the Office of the Assistant Secretary for Civil Rights. To file a complaint of discrimination, complete, sign and mail a program discrimination complaint form, available at any USDA office location or online at www.ascr.usda.gov, or write to: USDA, Office of the Assistant Secretary for Civil Rights, 1400 Independence Avenue, S.W., Washington, D.C. 20250-9410, or call toll free at (866) 632-9992 (voice) to obtain additional information, the appropriate office or to request documents. Individuals who are deaf, hard of hearing or have speech disabilities may contact USDA through the Federal Relay service at (800) 877-8339 or (800) 845-6136 (in Spanish). USDA is an equal opportunity provider, employer and lender. The Family Services Department Announces The Tribal Adult Respite Care Program

The Tribal Adult Respite Care program will provide limited financial assistance to Tribal families for procuring licensed respite care services for a specified number of hours per week. This program will be available for all Tribal Members regardless of where they live. Please contact Wanda Fowler, Adult Services Coordinator, at (251)-368-9136, ext. 2600 for more details.

The Family Services Department Announces The Elder Abuse Prevention Interventions Program

The Family Services Department has received a three-year grant to conduct research into the prevalence of elder abuse within our Tribal population. The Department will work in partnership with the University of West Florida to conduct surveys to assist in developing an assessment tool for elder abuse identification. This grant enables us to provide educational events for the community regarding elder abuse identification and prevention and enables us to establish a Multidisciplinary Team to respond to incidents of elder abuse.

Moving Forward

2012 is giving way to a whole new year. With each New Year comes change. Being one that doesn't care much for change, ringing out the old and in the new brings mixed emotions, however; change in the way of diabetes is exciting! Every year we inch closer to a cure. New technologies are being introduced daily. This year will prove no different. Already major drug makers are gearing up to apply to the Food and Drug Administration for approval on new medications and products for 2013.

We have left behind procedures and treatments that were a God send at their time, but would be considered something of a horror today. While reusable glass syringes with needles that had to be sharpened, large clunky blood glucose meters, beef and pork insulin, along with many other treatments, have faded into the past; they are part of the revolutionary path of change that has led us to where we are today. Who would have thought in the eighties and early nineties, we would now be talking on cell phones that offer apps to track our sugar, exercise, food intake and everything in between. (We were so proud of those gigantic portable phones in the house.)

There have been many people that have made great sacrifices throughout their lifetimes, so that our generation can reap the benefits of years of research and dedication. Even before the discovery of insulin by Dr Banting in 1921, there were many that devoted their lives to learning what diabetes was and how it affected the body. Dr. Banting himself worked in a small cramped and often sweltering laboratory, along with his partner Dr. Charles Best, a medical student. Many animals had to be sacrificed for the sake of research. The first insulin injection undoubtedly was a painful and distressing procedure to say the least; as the insulin was impure. I'm sure fourteen year old, sixty five pound recipient Leonard Thompson was glad to get it, as it prolonged his life for fifteen more years.

While we may be unsure of the future and the changes 2013 will bring our way, we know it can only be brighter than our hard fought past.

Addie's Angels

Submitted by Donna Johnson, RN/Diabetes Case Manager

Let me tell you about an awesome group of fourteen people that dedicated their Saturday morning to a great cause! The following people walked in the December 1st American Diabetes Walk, held in Pensacola, Florida:

Cindy and Scott Martin, Sheila Odom, Lea Odom, Kim Flowers, Jeri and Hosea Cisneros, Chastity Peebles, Nichole Higdon, Jill Lee, Addie Lee, Kathy McDuffy, Hannah Flowers and Amy Wasilewski.

The team had a special mascot to help them along, fifteen year old Addie Lee. Addie is the daughter of our own Jill Lee. Addie was diagnosed with Type 1 Diabetes at the age of eight. Jill teaches diabetes education, but knows firsthand just how heart wrenching this disease can be, not only for the ones diagnosed, but also their families.

A special thank you to Jeri Cisneros for her determination, hard work and drive in getting everything organized and all the donations collected. This was not an easy task. Jeri spent many hours of her own personal time securing donations and working out all the details. Congratulations Addie's Angels, we appreciate you all!

LEGAL UPDATE

Submitted by Legal Department

We wanted to take this opportunity to update you on several legal matters affecting your interests as Tribal Members. If you have any questions regarding any of these matters, please feel free to contact any of your Tribal Council Members at (251) 446-1140 or the Legal Department at (251) 368-9136 Ext. 2525. If you would like full copies of any legislation, please contact Dr. Deidra Dees, Tribal Archivist.

Significant Tribal Legislation

Enrollment Code

The Tribal Council approved amendments to the Enrollment Code on September 10, 2012. The Tribal Council made revisions to comply with the passage of the June 5, 2010 Constitutional amendment, which sets forth the eligibility requirements for tribal membership. The revisions also now require a deoxyribonucleic acid (DNA) test for membership. The revised Code also deleted the time limitation for disenrollment based on an administrative error and establishes a new procedure for the disenrollment of Tribal Members.

Criminal Code

Along with revisions to the Enrollment Code, the Tribal Council approved amendments to the Criminal Code on September 10, 2012. The Criminal Code revisions establish fraudulent submissions of enrollment application and subsequent receipt of tribal benefits as part of the crime of fraud.

Board and Committee Organization Act

On November 15, 2012, the Tribal Council enacted the Board and Committee Organization Act, which provides centralized location for all governing provisions relating to tribal boards, committees, and commissions. It also establishes a uniform system for advertising vacancies and selecting members for tribal boards, committees, and commissions.

Tribal Historic Preservation Code

The Tribal Council amended and updated the Tribal Historic Preservation Code on November 15, 2012. The revisions added a provision for the Tribal Historic Preservation Office to manage and administer any funds appropriated by the Tribal Council for cultural and historic preservation activities. It was also clarified the restrictions on the land-use permit previously approved to expand the gaming facility at Wetumpka. The land-use permit is restricted so that no further archeological related activity and no construction or development, except for maintenance and construction required to protect the site, is to be conducted on the northern part of the Hickory Ground Town Site or the Hickory Ground Ceremonial Grounds Site.

Significant Court Cases

White v. PBCI et al. (Tribal Court)

White v. McGhee et al. (State Court)

On May 1, 2009, former Tribal Judge Ernie White filed suit in Tribal Court against the Tribe and six individual Tribal Council members that voted to remove him from judicial office, alleging violations of his constitutional rights and demanding damages exceeding $3 million for each of his four claims, and in Escambia County circuit court against the six individual Tribal Council members who voted to remove him, alleging invasion of privacy and outrage claims and demanding damages exceeding $2.5 million for each of his five claims.

Tribal Case

The Tribe filed a motion to dismiss all claims based on sovereign immunity. In May 2010, the Tribal Court granted the Tribe's motion to dismiss. White moved for reconsideration of that ruling, and the Tribal Court denied that motion in December 2010.

On April 5, 2011, the Tribal Supreme Court entered a Decision affirming the dismissal of the claims against the Tribe and the named Tribal Council members in their individual capacities because there was no waiver of sovereign immunity. The Tribal Supreme Court, however, remanded the matter for consideration of the Tribe's motion to strike White's second amended complaint, which alleged claims against the individual Tribal Council members in their official capacities and was filed after the notice of appeal.

Per the Tribal Judge's May 2011 Order responding to the remand from the Tribal Supreme Court, the parties submitted briefs regarding the motion to strike the second amended complaint. On July 13, 2011, the Tribal Judge denied the motion to strike the second amended complaint. The individual Tribal Council member defendants then filed its answer on September 12, 2011.

On October 5, 2011, the individual Tribal Council member defendants filed a motion for summary judgment. The Tribal Court then set a briefing schedule for the summary judgment motion and a trial date of December 12, 2011. After briefing by all parties, the Tribal Court granted the individual Tribal Council member defendants' motion for summary judgment on December 7, 2011. As a result, the trial date is moot.

White filed a notice of appeal on December 15, 2011. On August 3, 2012, the Tribal Supreme Court reversed the Tribal Court's decision and remanded the case to the Tribal Court for a trial on whether the individual Tribal Council member defendants' violated White's due process rights.

Both the Tribe and White filed motions for summary judgment regarding back pay. On November 17, 2012, the Tribal Judge issued an order declaring that the individual defendants in official capacities violated White's procedural due process rights and awarded him $315,000 in back pay. The individual Tribal Council member defendants filed an appeal to the Tribal Supreme Court on November 30 arguing that an award of back pay is impermissible under the law.

State Case

On August 17, 2011, the State Court granted the Tribe's motion for summary judgment. White did not appeal the final decision.

Rape v. Poarch Band of Creek Indians, PCI Gaming, Creek Indian Enterprises, Creek Casino Montgomery et al. (Tribal and State Courts)

On November 16, 2011, Jerry Rape filed a complaint against the Tribe, PCI Gaming, Creek Indian Enterprises, Creek Casino Montgomery, and gaming employees (the "Tribe") in the Circuit Court of Montgomery County, Alabama. Rape asserts, among other things, that he hit a jackpot of approximately $1,377,015, but that the Tribe refused to pay him. The Tribe verified that the jackpot was the result of a machine malfunction. Rape alleges breach of contract, unjust enrichment, misrepresentation, suppression, civil conspiracy, negligence, negligent hiring and/or supervision, respondent superior, and spoliation of evidence and seeks compensatory damages in the amount of the alleged jackpot, punitive damages, and damages for mental anguish and emotional distress.

On November 18, 2011, Rape filed substantially the same complaint in the Tribal Court.

State Case

On January 20, 2012, the Tribe filed a motion to dismiss the state complaint arguing that the court lacked jurisdiction and that the defendants enjoyed sovereign immunity. On May 2, 2012, the state court granted the Tribe's motion to dismiss. On June 8, 2012, Rape filed a notice of appeal to the Alabama Supreme Court. The case was referred to appellate mediation, but the mediation was unsuccessful. On October 17, 2012, the case was placed back on the appellate docket. The parties are awaiting a schedule for appellate briefing.

Tribal Case

On January 20, 2012, the Tribe filed a motion to dismiss based on sovereign immunity. On June 7, 2012, the tribal court granted the Tribe's motion to dismiss. Rape did not appeal this ruling.
